

National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity

ALL GRADUATE STUDENTS, POSTDOCS, AND FACULTY:

Did you know that you have access to a wonderful online mentoring program to support you in your scholarship at no cost?

The College of Education has sponsored the University of Utah's Institutional Membership for the National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity (NCFDD). The NCFDD is a nationally-recognized, independent organization that provides online career development and mentoring. Our faculty, graduate students, and postdoctoral scholars now have access to a large variety of services and resources including webinars, multi-week courses, guest lectures, accountability writing buddy matches, discussion forums, and much more. The normal cost for individual NCFDD memberships would be $240/year for doctoral and post-doctoral scholars, and $480/year for faculty.

To register for your free NCFDD membership, please complete the following steps:

1. Visit facultydiversity.org/Utah
2. Under "Registration information," enter your University of Utah email address as a username. Also enter your first name, last name, validation code (provided by the website), and click continue.
3. Enter the required registration information and click "submit."
4. Members will receive a welcome e-mail within 1-2 business days confirming that the account is approved and active.

If you have any questions about the membership, please contact Nadia Granados in the College of Education at nadia.granados@utah.edu.
